

A Place of Sunsets

Twilight sun sets upon horizon,
Dancing glitter upon sea and sky,
Breathe deep, breathe deep, breathe deep now dear,
For a sun sets in you this night.

What a year it's been,
What a tremendously torturous year,
But do not fear my love,
Fresh dawn light will soon be here.

Infinite love has laid you bare,
Thrashed and stripped you until you bled,
All the pains of future and past,
To this moment it has led.

'You're ready', I hear in the whispers of night,
Leave this experience in the past,
Harness the energy, step into the unknown,
For this rebirth is not the last.

Future you will see,
What's next for you to come,
But now, in this moment, breathe deep, my love,
For this earthquake, at least, is done.
