

Home At Last...

I love my countries...
Intertwined by messy, fascinating histories,
My blood is in these soils.
Tears washed clean all pain,
Yet here it sits,
The suffering of my kinsman,
In words unspoken.
In song alone.
In the music of whispering warriors,
My fathers, their mothers,
My country people.
My home.